What makes a good Testmanager (m/f/d)? You know how to deal extensively with test environments. By creating and evaluating test results, you support our project teams in-house and on-site at the customer as a consultant (m/f/d). You introduce your experience and own ideas skillfully in order to ensure a timely implementation.

What makes an interesting position for you? At the end of the day, you want to be sure that your work counts, that you make a difference, inspire others and move your clients and yourself further forward.

YOUR PROFILE:

- B.S./B.A. in a related discipline (i.e., Computer Science, Information Systems, Business informatics etc.) preferably with focus on Financial services
- Professional experience in software testing and ideally in software engineering
- Several years of experience in applying different test procedures and test tools
- Professional experience in the implementation of test management-systems
- Advanced knowledge of project management
- Industry knowledge in financial services a plus
- You are driven by the possibility to gain deep insights into a wide range of companies during your multi-day customer appointments on-site
- Fluent in German, both in written and oral – this is a must
- Business fluency in English (written/oral), French would be a plus

YOUR RESPONSIBILITIES:

- Coordination of test executions
- Application of test environments
- Release of test levels
- Analysis and documentation of test results
- Development and monitoring of test metrics
- Supporting developers in analyzing test results for potential software errors
- Coordination of the maintenance team and response to tickets and support-inquiries
- Multi-day stay at customer-site, also in other European countries

WE OFFER:

- Permanent position
- Attractive salary package
- Possibility of participation in the company's success
- Varied topics and projects with well-known customers
- A responsible task with potential for personal development
- Short decision-making paths and the flexibility of a cooperate team
